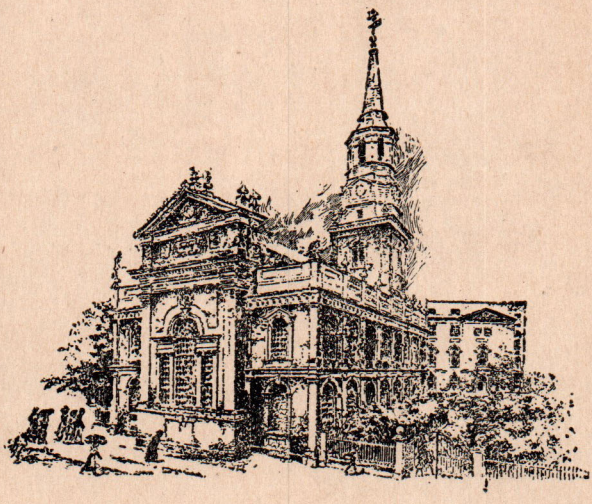
CHRIST CHURCH

Second Street above Market



A man owes something to the neighborhood where he lives; and also to that where he makes his living. Is your home or business place in the district lying between Seventh Street and the Delaware River, and between Walnut and Green Streets? Then you have a special interest in this, the Patriots' Sanctuary; and it extends a special welcome to you. Make these brief Noon-Day Services a part of your daily program; and do your share toward the higher life in the Old Ward.

Hours of Sunday Services:

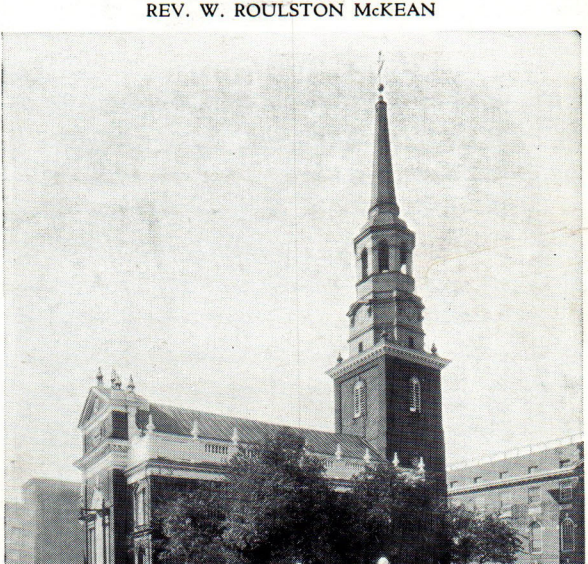
CHRIST CHURCH IN PHILADELPHIA

1695 1939

SECOND STREET ABOVE MARKET

REV. E. FELIX KLOMAN, Rector
REV. W. ROULSTON McKEAN



This, the oldest Episcopal Parish in Pennsylvania, is not by any means merely an historical shrine.

From its earliest days, when Revolutionary Patriots and Signers of the Declaration of Independence worshipped here, Christ Church has been a militant influence toward social and religious good in the community.

While many of its congregation come from great distances, it is primarily a social and religious center for this neighborhood. Its interests are as much in behalf of its neighbors who work in this neighborhood as in the people who live here.

You are cordially urged to attend the half-hour Noon-Day Lenten Services where it is believed you will feel the quiet, but strong vitality which is Christ's Church heritage from its stirring past.
